Two practices of decentralization and participative management during the last year are as follows. The College has constituted College Development Committee and Internal Quality Assurance Cell College Development Committee (CDC): College Development Committee constituted by law is also a good mechanism of decentralization and participative management. On this apex committee at college level the representatives from various fields and sector have been nominated. This comprises representation of management nominee by Principal, teacher representation, women representation, representatives from society, industry, research, student, IQAC etc. This committee as an apex body for the approval of every task and functions in such a way that the view of decentralization and participative management is achieved. In addition this almost all the committee constituted at college level has the representatives from student community belonging to various classes in the college. These representatives of students ensure the decentralization and participative management at institutional level for current academic session. It has also helped to maintain all inclusive participation of the student community. IQAC: The Internal Quality Assurance Cell was established. It was a major step in pushing long term quality standard. IQAC in any institution is significant administrative body that is responsible for all quality matters. It is the prime responsibility of IQAC to initiate, plan and supervise various activities that are necessary to increase the quality of the education imparted in the institution. The IQAC includes faculty members along with members from society of the policy/plan formulation and its implementations. Faculty members in IQAC played an active role in the management of academic activity of the college.
